

Tie, Dog Rescued From Train Tracks by MTA Police, Adopted from Animal Care & Control of NYC

Many other great dogs still need loving homes!

New York, April 14, 2014 – Tie, the train-track-running, headline-making pup rescued by MTA police officers last week, went to her new home yesterday. Animal Care & Control of NYC (AC&C) received more than 100 queries about—and approximately three dozen applications for—the outgoing, energetic dog.

Tie was adopted by the Miller family from AC&C’s Manhattan Care Center.

“While we’re thrilled Tie is going to a great home, we have many more dogs, cats, and rabbits that still need families to call their own,” said AC&C Executive Director Risa Weinstock. “We hope people will consider adopting one of Tie’s fantastic friends!”

Among the dozens of wonderful dogs currently up for adoption at AC&C are Rockstar, Bishop, and Issy:

Potential adopters can meet animals at one of AC&C's three Adoption Centers (Manhattan: 326 East 110th Street; Brooklyn: 2336 Linden Boulevard; Staten Island: 3139 Veterans Road West) or at Mobile Adoption Center events held at various locations throughout the city. Events are posted on AC&C website, www.nycacc.org.

Potential adopters can also visit AC&C's website at www.nycacc.org/AdoptionSearch.htm to view animals available for adoption, and email adoption@nycacc.org for more information. All AC&C adoptions include vaccinations, a preregistered microchip, spay/neuter, a free office visit at a participating veterinarian and a free identification tag.

AC&C urges pet guardians to license and microchip their dogs so that families can be easily reunited.

About Animal Care & Control of NYC

Animal Care & Control of NYC (AC&C) is one of the largest animal welfare organizations in the country, taking in approximately 30,000 animals each year. AC&C is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit that rescues, cares for and finds loving homes for animals throughout the five boroughs of NYC. AC&C has a contract with the City of New York to be an open-admissions organization, which means it never turns a way any homeless, abandoned, injured or sick animal in need of help, including cats, dogs, rabbits, small mammals, reptiles, birds, farm animals and wildlife. Visit www.nycacc.org for more information, and follow AC&C at facebook.com/NYCACC and @NYCACC.
