ANIMAL CARE & CONTROL OF NYC CELEBRATES ADOPT-A-SENIOR-PET MONTH

New York, November 12, 2013 – In honor of Adopt-a-Senior-Pet Month, Animal Care & Control of NYC (AC&C) is having a “Super Seven Up Special” this weekend on magnificent, mature dogs and cats looking for loving homes. On November 15, 16, and 17, dogs and cats seven years and older will be available for a $20 adoption fee.

All AC&C adoptions include vaccinations, a microchip, spay/neuter, a free office visit at a participating veterinarian and a free identification tag.

Individuals and families interested in adopting can visit one of AC&C’s three Care Centers, open from 12 p.m. – 7 p.m. daily for adoptions.

Manhattan: 326 East 110th Street

Brooklyn: 2336 Linden Boulevard

Staten Island: 3139 Veterans Road West

Potential adopters can also visit AC&C’s website at www.nycacc.org to view animals available for adoption.

“Senior dogs and cats make great companions,” said Risa Weinstock, AC&C’s Executive Director. “People often overlook them, but there are many benefits to adopting older pets. Our super seniors have as much love to give as younger animals do, while not requiring as much energy or training.”

About Animal Care & Control of NYC

Animal Care & Control of New York City (AC&C) is one of the largest animal welfare organizations in the country, taking in approximately 30,000 animals each year. As a 501 (c) (3) not-for-profit organization since 1995, AC&C rescues, cares for and finds loving homes for homeless and abandoned animals in New York City. AC&C facilities operate in all five boroughs. Visit <http://nycacc.org> for more information.
